GAME. One of those outpourings of cranks that puts a tax on the capacity of the Polo Grounds was present yesterday to see the double header between the New York Nationals and the Bostons. The popularity of McGraw's com-ing champions was shown by the fact that though the weak Bostons were the opposing team the attendance was one of the largest of the season. It took up every spare bit of room in the stands and spread itself out over all parts of the field that were not actually necessary for playing purposes it camped on all parts of the field, and the

it camped on all parts of the field, and the two games were played within a solid enclosure of onlookers. Those who could not find a place to sit stood, and the name of the standees alone was legion.

Both games were won by the New Yorks, the first easily, the second after a whirlwind finish. Wild enhusiasm greeted the winning run in the ninth inning of the second game, even those volatile ones who hissed perpetrators of bad plays on the New York side at the outset forgetting all about their previous uncalled for disapproval and joining in the tumult of enthusiasm that attended the fervid finish.

But in connection with the exuberant fervid finish.

But in connection with the exuberant furore which followed immediately after the second game was an accident to Manager John McGraw, the man who more than any-body else has helped to give New York a pennant winner. The accident did not prove to be as serious as at first supposed, but it will be troublesome enough to the little manager, who will be incapacitated for a few days because he was caught in the crush of ager, who will be incapacitated for a few days because he was caught in the crush of rooters which poured on the field after the game and trampled on by those whose only desire was to express appreciation of his desire was to express appreciation of his success.

McGraw, like the other players, was hurrying to the clubhouse after the game and making his way as best he could through the dense swarm of people. He had nearly reached the steps leading to the home team's dressing room when the jostling and surging took him off his feet and he was tumbled to the ground. The crowd was thick around him, and a number of persons in the scramble stepped on him as he lay on the ground. He was extricated from his predicament, taken into the clubhouse and a physician brought in.

He was extricated from his predicament, taken into the clubhouse and a physician brought in.

The physician thought that the left leg had been dislocated and that possibly there was a fracture also, but at the J. Hood Wright Hospital, where McGraw was taken in an ambulance, it was said last night that the enjury was a sprained ankle. After an hour or so in the hospital McGraw went home in a cab. It is thought that he will be out again by the and of the week.

Fast fielding was done for New York in the first game by cilibert and Mathewson in particular, and enough hitting to win with runs to space. Bowerman scored the first run for New York with a Samsonian smash for the entire circuit in the third inning. The ball sped beyond the centre field boundary. In the next inning Donlin's three-timer, followed by Dunn's Homeric homer, gave two more runs. Browne with a single, Donlin with a base on balls Mertes with a sacrifice, Devlin with a base on balls and then an outfield fly combined to give New York a run in the sixth.

In the seventh Browne hit safely and stole second, Mertes singled to right, on which Cannell made a bad return. Browne scoring, and Bresnahan gave Delehanty a foul fly, and Mertes scored. Boston's one run was due to triples by Delehanty and Needham in the ninth. The score:

GAME.

Ames pitched a splendid game for New York in the second strife, striking out ten men. He got poor support in the first inning when errors by Dunn and Bresnahan' and Abbaticchio's triple gave Boston two runs. The misplays so distressed some of the mercurial spectators that they hooted the authors thereof—an unwarranted proceeding, for errors are a part of the game, and even coming pennant winners are no more than human. Bad fielding and Mertes's timely hitting characterized the game.

The New Yorks evened up the account in the second inning. Devlin reached second on a poor throw by Delehanty. Johnny Dunn laimmed a triple to centre, fetching Devlin home, and Moran's poor fielding of Gilbert's tap give the latter a life, and an outfield fly let Dunn score. Dunn's fumble of Geier's grounder in the fifth was followed by Tenney's safe bunt. Abbaticchio struck out, whereupon Warner halted Geier's pilgrimage to the third station and at the same time effected a double play. Cooley connected for three bases, scoring Tenney. The New Yorks were not long in tying the score. In the seventh inning Bresnahan singled, chased to second on Browne's sacrifice and rushed to the rubber on Mertes's wallop for a base.

Mertes also arose to sublime heights in the minth, with the able assistance of Browne. After Bresnahan had taken the fly ball route to the bench, Browne banged a two-bagger to left centre. "They also serve who only standing and waiting for four balls. The multitude implored Mertes to keep up his good stick work, and Sam turned no deaf ear to their strenuous pleadings. He was just as anxious as they were, but cool, and when the ball came down the lane that suited him her reversed its course and it shot safely out to centre field and Browne skipped in.

Then came the deluge. The score:

BIG CROWD SEES NEW YORKS AND PHILADELPHIAS PLAY.

The Bostons Take the Lead by Beating the Washingtons Twice-Chicagos Capture Two Games and Go Into Third

The New York Americans won the first game from Philadelphia yesterday and lost the second. As the Bostons won two games from Washington, the former lead New York by two points. The Chicagos went into by two points. The Chicagos went into third place by winning two games from Detroit. St. Louis and Cleveland broke even and St. Louis passed Detroit. Inci-dentally, the big crowds that were at the two New York grounds looks to be pretty conclusive evidence that New York will patronize two teams when they are both strong teams

FIRST GAME. Many thousands of baseball enthusiasts flocked to the picturesque American League plateau overlooking the Hudson yesterday afternoon to see a double clash between the New Yorks and the Philadelphias. In the dual engagement between these two strong teams the spoils were divided. The which was close, while the second was won by the Philadelphias, and was more onesided.

The first game was the better played of the two and more interesting. The New Yorks led throughout after they once had scored, led throughout after they once had scored, but they never could afford to ease up for a moment. Chesbro, with his arm of steel and his heart of oak, was in form, and when he is that way he is wellnigh invincible. He was equal to the task yesterday on the occasion when the Quakers were most dangerous. Connie Mack's pitcher, Coakley, bothered the New Yorks a good deal, using a high fast ball that had them puzzled.

The Philadelphias did not get a hit in the first three innings and only one in the first seven. Good fielding by New York also abounded, fast work being done on ground balls by all of the New York infielders.

Pat Dougherty reached second base in the first inning with nobody out, but the New Yorks were then feeling their way with Coakley's curves, and Pat was left. He and Keeler tried a double steel in the third, and this time Pat was nipped at the plate.

The New Yorks won the game in the fifth inning. Conroy slashed a double to the left field fence. Kleinow bunted, his bunt tied up Davis and Coakley in their efforts to field the ball, and Kleinow, too, was safe with Courby on third. Chesbro fanned, but Dougherty gave Noonan a foul fly, on which Kleinow scampered down to second base. Willie Keeler was there in a pinch and won the game with a clean hit to left, which Hartsel fumbled just long enough for Kleinow to follow Conroy home.

Monte Cross hit for a home run in the eighth inning. Noonan and Coakley both fanned, but Hartsel and Pickering made scratch hits. At this time Henley, the weedy built Philadelphia pitcher, who was on the coaching line, stepped up close to Ganzel to put in his oar when Ganzel questioned a decision. Ganzel shoved the officious Quaker individual away and the latter doubled up his fists. Ganzel did likewise, and a fight looked likely. Three cops ran out to first base and separated the belligreents, and the umpire sent Henley to the bench.

With two men on bases, Chesbro saved the situation by making Davis slice the air. The score: but they never could afford to ease up for a PHILADELPHIA (A. L.), 7: NEW YORK (A. L.), 2 The first inning of the second game teemed with action by both sides. The Philadelphias opened on Powell murderously. Hartsel hit for a homer to centre, and one more run came in on Davis single, Seybold's scratch hit and Elberfeld's fumble. The New Yorks were just as busy in their half. They batted Waddell out of the box. Dougherty walked, Keeler sacrificed, Elberfeld, Williams and Anderson singled. Two runs were in and the Rube resigned his pitching job.

The Indian, Bender, was as suddenly efective as Waddell had been easy. There were two on bases and only one out when he went in to pitch, but he prevented further damage by striking cut Ganzel and making Conroy holst a fly. Only two hits were made off the aborigine in the next eight innings. He was a heap big Indian for the New Yorks.

Tearing, splitting hitting was done by the Philadelphias in the sixth inning, when they made the ball sing with line drives. A triple and three singles netted three runs.

Powell had been bumped for nine safeties when Clarkson relieved him in the ninth. The Quakers at once took Clarkson's measure. Schreckengost uncovered a home run, and two more hits produced another run. -BECOND GAME.

PLAY TO BEGIN WITH 144 START-ERS AT BALTUSROL LINKS.

Final Practice Rounds of Contestants-Programme for the Opening-Many Labor Day Competitions in Metropolitan District-Rogers Wins at St. Andrews.

With but half a dozen exceptions all of the 144 entries for the amateur championship, which begins this morning at the Baltusrol Golf Club, were on hand yesterday, but there were no records to be recorded.

Travis was not in the scoring vein, and doing an 84, lost to the best ball of C. B. Macdonald and Percy Pyne, 2d, in the afternoon, by 4 and 3. Their best ball was 76. Travis went out in 46 and home in 38. Macdonald played at the Chicago Golf Club Sunday morning, and has the record for a quick donald played at the Chicago Golf Club Sunday morning, and has the record for a quick transit between the two links, Wheaton and Baltusrol. In the morning Gefree Low and John Reid, Jr., who is not entered, however, with a 77 defeated A. M. Reid and Max Behr, by 2 up. In the afternoon Low had Waiter Egan for a partner and with a best score of 72 they beat Chandler Egan and Findiay Douglas, who did 75, by 3 up and 1 to play. This match carried a big gallery and an incident was a 2 on the third hole, 200 yards, by Walter Egan.

Louis N. James, the amateur champion of 1902, played with Frank O. Reinhart in the morning, the two getting a 78 and beating E. M. Byers and George A. Ormiston, 80, by 4 up and 2 to play. James had the ninth in 2. In the afternoon Byers joined forces with W. C. Carragie, and, with a 77, they administered a crushing defeat—8 and 7—to W. Frew and Oliver Perin, the Baltimore player, who has just returned from St. Andrews, Scotland. H. W. Perrin, the Philadelphia champion, made his first appearance, and lost in a single with A. W. Tillinghast of that city by 4 and 2. Tillinghast made the soil of the count in 79. Soil of the count in 79.

18, to Saturday, Oct. 22, inclusive.
That the distinction of making the low score to-day and to-morrow deserves a special recognition from the U. S. G. A. committee seemed a general opinion, as the en-trance fees have a mounted to $720. With all match play at Nassau last year there could be no low score medal. The medal men in the qualifying rounds of other years were H. J. Whigham, 1896; C. B. MacDonald, 1897; J. H. Choate, Jr., 1898; C. B. MacDon-aid, 1897; J. H. Choate, Jr., 1898; C. B. MacDonald, 1899; W. J. Travis, 1900; W. J. Travis, 1901 and in 1902 Travis and G. A. Ormiston tied. Whigham in 1896 and Travis in 1900 and 1901 also won out the championship—the "double event."

To-day's round will be eighteen holes, medal play, and the sixty-four lowest scorers will start again to-morrow in a second qualifying round of thirty-six holes, the best thirty-two after the fifty-four holes to meet at match play.

ing round of thirty-six holes the match two after the fifty-four holes to meet at match play.

F. C. Newton of Seattle and A. H. Swords of Morristown will open the dance at 9:30 A. M., and W. J. Travis and Capt. T. M. Horne, U. S. A., of Dyker Meadow, are due to start four minutes later. Should all start, the last pair will leave at 2:14 P. M., but withdrawals will probably enable the last pair to make an earlier start. C. H. Seely, the Connecticut player, was at Baitusrol yesterday, but he will not start in the championship.

There will be a pair worth following teeling off in nearly constant succession. Fred Herreshoff is due to start at 9:46 A. M.; Max Behr, 9:58; Pierre A. Proal and W. C. NELSON BEATS HERRERA. Fierce Twenty Round Fight Goes the Limit in Butte, Mon. BUTTE, Mon., Sept. 5—Ten thousand spectators this afternoon witnessed one of the best fights ever seen in Butte. The contestants were Aurelia Herrera, the Mexican, and Battling Nelson of San Francisco. The fight went the scheduled twenty rounds and at the end both men appeared fresh and were fighting flercely, but Referee Duncan McDonald awarded the decision to Nelson, which was indorsed by the sentiment of the big crowd.

It was the first decision given against the Mexican in Butte, although he had been in a score of battles here. Herrera weighed in at 1294 and Nelson at 130, both in fine condition. In the first round they sparred cautiously, but from the second to the end of the twentieth it was fierce give and take, many rounds ending with honors even.

Herrera scored the first and only knockdown in the fight when he sent Nelson to the mat for a count of eight. In the eighth Nelson drew first blood. BUTTE, Mon., Sept. 5-Ten thousand
